Clinical Society of Genitourinary Surgeons

Boston, October 24-27th, 2019

Massachusetts General Hospital and Brigham and Women's Hospital Departments of Urology look forward to hosting the 97th Annual Meeting of The Clinical Society of Genito-Urinary Surgeons (CSGUS) in Boston, a city that has long been recognized for its historical significance, academic excellence, and medical innovation.

This year's program will follow a similar format to recent years with Friday Oct 25th dedicated to talks delivered by the urology faculty and members of the Massachusetts General Hospital, Brigham and Women's Hospital and Harvard University. On Saturday Oct 26th, we will have guest speakers from our community that will be sure to interest you and your guests.

Throughout the weekend you will have free time to explore the amazing city of Boston, with most destinations in walking distance. Please click on the links below for a list of activities and restaurants.
